2:20:49 WMJr: Any other questions of Vice President Johnson?

2:20:53 Dianna McKnight-Morton: This is just a comment. Um, this is very exciting. And I – I'm really excited to see this, and just going through page by page and explaining the – you know – yeah, we're asking questions and I know this is just a concept but however, it's going to be a reality. And so as we're working these out, these kinks and making sure everything is right, it helps- it helps me to understand from the beginning instead of later on, where are you going and how you plan to do this?

Um, funding isn't something else. I'm not going to touch it, but I'm just still wondering about the funding because –um – funding from the State has been for us, it's getting little bit less and less. And so that is a concern and I do like what the President mentioned about, you know, some collaboration. You know, possibly with businesses. I know the schools that she mentioned, yes we were there, and it was explained to us very in detail how they were able to get – um- uh – uh collab – to collaborate with other places, organizations, businesses and so on and so forth. So that's something that we really have to keep in mind if we want to still be a top-notch school in the country. Thank you
